Twenty Fourth Literacy Committee Newsletter

Literacy Secretary: Rakhi Poonia (2020-21)

How to become an assistant professor in Atlanta and in Georgia?

Attitude of gratitude:

I'd first like to thank my nominators Sunil Mathur sir, Aashu Bhai Sahab, Brij sir, Dinesh Raj sir, Sudhir Agarwal sir, Sankalp Mathur DevDarshan sir, Pravin Soni sir, Praveen Gattani Sir, Ashok sir, Hari Mundhra sir, Dinesh Raj sir, and Anand Rathi sir for giving me the chance to help RAJA youth in capacity of its Literacy Secretary 2020-21.

Today's newsletter required extensive as well as intensive research and analysis on my part.

I researched that being an assistant professor in Atlanta and in Georgia is a white collar and high paying job.

Introduction

This newsletter answers questions like who is an assistant professor? What are his duties? How to become an assistant professor in Atlanta and in Georgia? What are degree requirements of an assistant professor in Atlanta and in Georgia? How much do they get paid?

Chapter 1

This newsletter answers questions like who is an assistant professor in Atlanta and in Georgia?

I researched on Wikipedia website and found that:

- a. “Assistant professor is an academic rank used in universities or colleges in the United States, Canada, and some other countries.”
- b. “This position is generally taken after earning a doctoral degree and generally after several years of holding one or more postdoctoral researcher positions.”

Chapter 2

What are responsibilities of an assistant professor?

I researched on betterteam.com website and found that responsibilities of an assistant professor include:

- a. “Assisting with various departmental duties and providing academic support to Professors and other staff.”
- b. “Recruiting, training, and mentoring new TAs and other junior staff.”
- c. “Conducting research and publishing papers in academic journals.”
- d. “Representing the university at conferences and delivering presentations when necessary.”

Chapter 4

What are degree requirements of an assistant professor in Atlanta and in Georgia?

I researched on study.com website and found that:

“Education Requirements of an assistant professor in Atlanta and in Georgia are”:

“Undergraduate Degree

The student must first earn a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree. For an aspiring assistant professor hoping to teach at a selective university, the applicant's undergraduate grade point average must be high.”

“Graduate Degree

After a baccalaureate degree has been earned, the prospective assistant professor will choose an area of specialty for graduate study. Often, but not always, the area of specialty is closely related to the student's undergraduate major. Once the student has acquired a master's degree, usually within two years, the candidate may enter a Ph.D. program in the field for another 3-4 years or longer.”

“Doctoral Degree

Earning a doctoral degree entails rigorous coursework, extensive research, and successful completion of a dissertation. The latter requires a broad knowledge of virtually all scholarship in the field as well as an original contribution to the arena.”

“Additional Skills and Experience

Additional prerequisites for a faculty position include excellent presentation skills, keen analytical skills, a clear focus, and the discipline for continued research. Candidates must also have teaching experience with excellent student evaluations. Because faculty positions in many fields are limited, prospective professors should be willing to relocate to broaden their chances for securing this position.”
